City Property Management Raises More than $6,000 for Arizona Charity at The Polo Party

Local HOA Property Management Hosts Annual Fundraiser at Polo Party

(SCOTTSDALE, Ariz.) – The 2nd Annual Scottsdale Polo Championships: Horses + Horsepower may have been a great success for the Arizona Polo community and organizers with more than 9,000 attendees, but the day also served to be a fruitful fundraising opportunity for companies like City Property Management.

Serving as one of the Arizona's largest locally owned HOA management companies, City Property hosted leaders from hundreds of homeowners association across the valley and state in their hospitality tent at the Polo Party and raised $6,048 for the Ovarian Cancer Alliance of Arizona.

“When we put the word out that we were holding our annual fundraiser and HOA event at The Polo Party, the response was tremendous. Our members were calling and emailing like crazy to get all the details for the event,” said Brian Lincks, Vice President of City Property Management. “In the end we had about 500 people show up and combined we raised a ton of money for the Ovarian Cancer Alliance of Arizona.”

Funds were raised inside the tent through silent auctions, pictures with winning polo star Nic Roldan and donations.

The funds will help OCAZ carry out its mission of conquering ovarian cancer in Arizona by elevating awareness, survivorship and care.

“This was a valuable opportunity for the Ovarian Cancer Alliance of Arizona to not only raise money for our cause, but also get some great exposure about how we can all work to raise ovarian cancer awareness and fight this disease,” said Annette Mattern, OCAZ Founder and President.

Also benefiting from Saturday’s Scottsdale Polo Champions the Work to Ride charity received a check for $2,500 and Scottsdale Healthcare Foundation’s NOAH Clinics additionally received a $10,000 from organizers.

About City Property Management

Since 1979, City Property Management has provided professional community management at planned unit developments, single-family communities, townhomes and condominiums throughout the greater Phoenix area, as well as several smaller cities throughout Maricopa and Pinal counties. City Property Management clients benefit from 30 years of experience in planning and growing communities as well as a knowledgeable team of employees who are fully certified in Arizona. All community managers—many who have been with the company for more than a decade—receive continuing education. City Property Management is a member of the Arizona Association of Community Managers, Home Builders Association of Central Arizona, Community Association Institute and Institute of Real Estate Management.

About the Ovarian Cancer Alliance of Arizona

The Ovarian Cancer Alliance of Arizona (OCAZ) is a charitable group of volunteers, survivors, and community leaders. Our vision is to conquer ovarian cancer in Arizona. Our purpose is elevating ovarian cancer awareness, survivorship, and care. OCAZ works with public and medical communities, building bridges that help our constituency. We empower and inspire survivors, offering tools to improve their quality of life. And we serve as advocates to increase funding for research and better treatments. Someday, a cure. We are committed to informing Arizona women about the symptoms of ovarian cancer in order to diagnose the disease earlier, when the cancer is most treatable.
